ANNUAL REPORT 2024

#NoManipulation

2024
PLAY FAIR CODE

With a well-balanced mix of the tried-and-tested and the new, we were once again able to reach many people in sports and beyond this year to raise awareness of the problem of match-fixing and betting fraud.

Friedrich MARTENS
IOC Prevention Manipulation

“The Play Fair Code is definitely a very special organization and certainly a best-in-class example in the field of global initiatives to combat match-fixing. This was clearly demonstrated once again by the Play Fair Code Talks in Vienna. We very much appreciate that the Play Fair Code is on the side of the IOC and regularly supports and accompanies our initiatives and training offerings with its expertise.”

Friedrich Stickler
President of Play Fair Code

“The second edition of our Play Fair Code Talks highlighted again how much national and international recognition there is for the Play Fair Code. Even more significantly, the Talks further underlined how important our work is and will remain in the future.”

Severin MORITZER
CEO of Play Fair Code

“Our 2024 training year was extremely successful and again packed with numerous highlights. In addition to the focus on handball and football, I would like to emphasize the achievement of a long-standing goal, namely the first training and awareness-raising event with the Criminal Law Department of the Association of Austrian Judges.”

ANNIVERSARY MEETING

50th Board meeting

For more than 13 years, leading personalities and decision-makers from the Austrian sports industry and beyond have been involved in the board of the Association for Protecting the Integrity in Sport – the Play Fair Code – and continuously contribute to the organization’s development and its successful work.

At the end of August, the Play Fair Code celebrated a special milestone: its 50th board meeting! This anniversary provided an opportunity to reflect after the meeting with a business lunch in a special setting on the Old Danube. Many thanks to all board members for their valuable support over the past 13 years and we hope for many more years to come!

PARIS 2024: INFORMATION AND AWARENESS-RAISING FOR ATHLETES

Together with our integrity partner organizations (Austrian NADO and 100% Sport / Safe Sport), the Austrian Olympic Committee athletes were once again comprehensively informed about the integrity issues of match-fixing, doping and safe sport during the uniform days shortly before their departure for the Olympic Games.

Congratulations to the medalists: Michaela Polleres, Valentin Bontus, Lara Vadlau & Lukas Mähr, Jessica Pilz, Jakob Schubert.

Friedrich Martens - IOC

Hi Severin!
It's great that you are helping to prepare the Austrian Olympians again this year. This is once again the perfect complement to the activities of the OM Unit PMC in Paris! Fantastic!
Best wishes, Friedrich

PLAY FAIR CODE TALKS 2.0

High-profile network meeting of national and international integrity experts at the House of Sports in Vienna.

This time with a focus on women's sports, which is racing ahead in terms of awareness and visibility. Opportunity or risk? How are the associated integrity challenges being dealt with and are there any recommendations for action?

Live on ORF SPORT + and available to watch on our site.

ON-DEMAND

ERASMUS+ PROJECT
INTEGRISPORT 3.0

Worthy finale for the Erasmus+ project
IntegriSport 3.0.

The project consortium with expert partners from the Netherlands, Greece, Spain, Estonia, Romania, Bulgaria, Switzerland and the Play Fair Code dealt with the targeted sensitization, education and training of law enforcement and judicial authorities in order to improve efficiency and effectiveness in the investigation and prosecution of match-fixing and betting fraud. The foundation was laid last year in a two-day “Awareness Raising Practical Session”, held for criminal investigation officers in Vienna as one of Austria’s central contributions to the project.

SPORT4IMPACT

At the invitation of Sport4Impact, the Play Fair Code took part in the first international symposium "Impact Investing in Sports along ESG Emerging Standards" at the Milan Stock Exchange in April.

During a panel discussion, Severin Moritzer emphasized the importance of integrity and credibility in the ESG field in consideration of the great potential for strategic and sustainable investments in sports and promoted a return-on-integrity approach in connection with such investments.

UEFA ANTI-MATCH-FIXING REGIONAL WORKSHOP IN BELGIUM

Hosted by the Royal Belgian Football Association and UEFA, the Play Fair Code, together with the Austrian Football Association and the Criminal Intelligence Service Austria, presented proven current practices for investigating and penalizing match-fixing under criminal and disciplinary law at a UEFA Regional Workshop, taking as example the case of the Austrian Third League.

The communication framework established in Austria for many years between the associations, the leagues, the Criminal Investigation Service Austria and the Play Fair Code is regarded internationally as an exemplary model.

World Championship test match against Canada: cracks of the homeland of ice hockey with a special message.

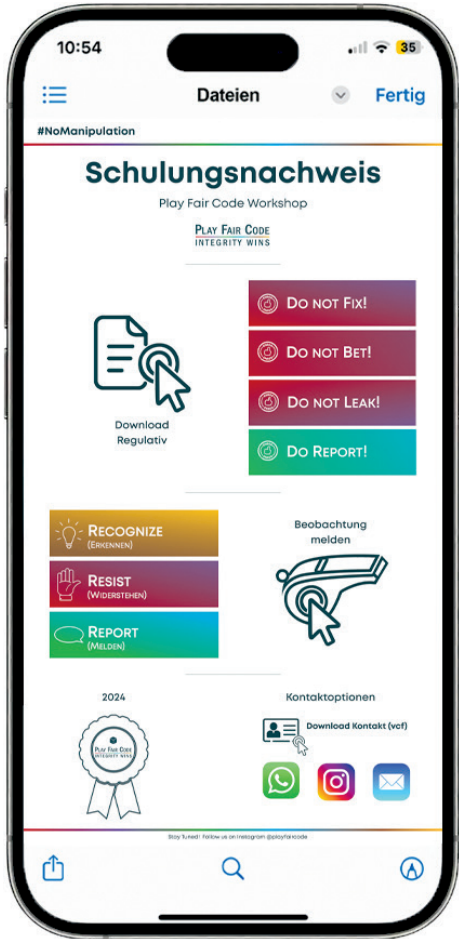

More than 7,000 fans in the sold-out Vienna Arena may not have witnessed an Austrian ice hockey miracle at this match, but they did see a campaign made possible by win2day, in which the Canadians and superstar Connor Bedard wore the Play Fair Code social media claim #NoManipulation prominently on their jerseys. What a statement!

Shortly afterwards, Team Austria made up for the defeat in this test match with a historic 5-goal comeback in Prague during the World Championship 2024.

Der Play Fair Code führt im Auftrag des ÖFB jedes zweite Jahr Workshops zum Thema „Gefahren durch Spielmanipulation und Wettbetrug“ in den Talentförderungsanstalten durch. Heute war Geschäftsführer Severin Moritzer auf der AKA Tirol zu Gast und hat das U16 und U18 Team, incl. Trainern, jeweils ca. 60 Minuten über Bedrohungen und Gefahren durch Spielmanipulation und Wettbetrug, sowie den richtigen Umgang damit aufgeklärt. Danke fürs Kommen, es war ein interessanter und wichtiger Vortrag.

It has been a pleasure to be part of this year's Play Fair Code Talks 2.0. I discussed with the other panellists match-fixing and integrity in women's sport. It was an exciting discussion with many insights. Many thanks to Severin Moritzer, Sönke Niklas, Felicia Wiederstein BSC, and Marc Orlainsky for the invitation and the organisation of this event.

Warum die Wettmafia den Frauenfußball bereits im Visier hat

Der Play Fair Code kämpft erfolgreich gegen Spielmanipulation, doch Experten warnen vor der nächsten Gefahr

Hintergrund. Dominique Taboga und die 13 vom Verteidiger verschobenen Spiele hatten den Ausschlag gegeben. Der Skandal weitete sich aus, auch Ex-Teamstürmer Sanel Kuljic wurde verhaftet. Der Schock in Österreich war groß: Die Wettmafia hatte sich ausgebreitet. Wie konnte Spielmanipulation und Wettbetrug, oft abgetan als kleine Gaunereien im Unterhaus, massiv in der obersten Spielklasse landen?

Als Reaktion wurde 2012 der Play Fair Code gegründet. Seither wird durch Präventionsmaßnahmen und Bewusstseinsbildung versucht, den Sport sauber zu halten. „2.000 Schulungen für 12.000 Sportler wurden durchgeführt“, berichtet Präsident Friedrich Stickler über die Tätigkeiten des Teams rund um Geschäftsführer Severin Moritzer.

Es lauert eine unerwartete Gefahr: Matchfixing, also Spielmanipulation, im Frauensport, besonders im Fußball.

Wachsam: Friedrich Stickler lud als Präsident des Play Fair Code zur Expertenrunde über neue Gefahren

Ein Grund dafür ist kursorerweise der Erfolg. „Die Frauen-WM in Neuseeland wurde vor dem TV von zwei Milliarden Menschen verfolgt. Das ist eine Verdopplung zur WM vor vier Jahren“, berichtet Kirstin Hallmann von der Uni Köln. Die Folge? Es fließt wesentlich mehr Geld in den drei Jahren. „Wo Geld ist, wird auch Wettbetrug angezogen“, betont die CAS-Richterin Martina Spreitzer-Kropiunik. Deswegen setzt der Play Fair Code auf Prävention, ab dem Mädchenalter.

Schlechte Quote Stickler ist ein Experte des Wettmarktes und betont die gute Zusammenarbeit mit Österreichs Polizei. Der frühere ÖFB-Präsident sieht aber internationale Versäumnisse: „Weltweit wurden 2023 in allen Sportarten 1.300 Spiele durch Wettanbieter als extrem auffällig gewertet. Nur 20 Fälle führten zu Sanktionen, nur 9 zu polizeilichen Ermittlungen. Dieses Loch macht Sorgen.“
